

Key: Gb
capo: 4

Ten Purdy Word Song
© 1982 Tupelo Kenyon
(P) 1982 Arctic Wingsong Publishing BMI

Ft. Worth & Austin, Texas
1979 & 1980

Instrumental (2 verse structure)

D Dmaj7 D7 G Gm D A9 G D
Huuuu

D9 G D
The meadow came alive again, another golden dawn
D9 A7
While sunlight scattered wispy mist, the chimes played on and on D9 G D
A melody, a lullaby of tranquil candle lights
Asus4 G
While murmuring a silent hush, far country sound and light

Break (verse structure)

On a golden, misty morning, not just another dawn
I almost heard the tranquil hush of lullabies long gone
A wispy dream of melodies, murmuring like chimes
The light and sound of morning draws nearer all the time

D Dmaj7 D7 G Gm D A9 G D
Huuuu

The ten most beautiful words in the English language, according to Wilfred J. Funk in the Book of lists are:

dawn, wispy, mist, chimes, melody, lullaby, tranquil, murmuring, hush, golden