     Who is the watcher, who sits in the stillness and knows

     And who is the seeker, who'll find ... The grand design

       Fmaj7                  Cmaj7
It's everyone, and nobody at all
Fmaj7                      Em
Crying out, and heeding the call

Reaching out . . . it's the silent kind
F   *    *   C G                      C     C4   C * *
Reaching in . . . with an eye on the mind

Cause time keeps the sun shadowed from the face
It's dawning is now and here is the place
Not up ahead and not back then          C   C4   C      E4    E
What else is there . . . If not now . . . When?
     Chorus
All aboard to the future, well on the way
Tomorrow,s the thing . . . And never today
Or back to the past, that used to be how
This moment is a gift . . . It's presence . . . Now

It's not about a stepping stone to somewhere over there
But the step itself, this one now, presently aware
A journey of a million steps won't happen overnight
Awaken from this dream of time, and let this step take flight
     Break (verse structure)
